Dear Joshua:

I am enclosing a set of suggestions for authors of sections in the manual of Methods in Medical Research.

Also, I enclose a few sample pages from the first volume. I would appreciate your letting me have by the end of this month, if possible, an approximate estimate of the number of double spaced, type written pages that you think will be needed to cover the material on biochemical mutations and recombination in bacteria.

I hope the sample of phage C36 arrived in good condition. The titer is probably between 10^9 and 10^{10} .

With best regards,

S. E. Luria.
